(Special to the Herald.) Washington, July 76.-The geological Washington, July 26.—The geological Washington, July 26.—During the Pocatello, Ida., July 26.—The report survey has recently published a folio Present summer President Roosevelt of a rich strike in the Lost Horse mine describing with considerable detail the geology and the mineral resources of what is known as the Hartville quadrangle, in Laramie county, Wyoming, near the western margin of the Great plains, along the eastern flank of the Rocky mountains. The area described and carefully mapped is about 885 square miles.

The range of altitude within the quadrangle is moderate. The highest ns, ranging from 5,000 to about 5,750 feet above sea level, are near the northern and the southern margins. whence there is a general slope toward the North Platte river. The relief includes more or less elevated and approximately level regions, intersected by streams, and in some cases sur-mounted by buttes or mesas; and rugged and broken hills and ridges. The two main drainage lines are North Platte river and Laramie river. Most of the smaller streams are intermittent in character. Irrigation is generally necessary for raising crops and has "Talking about crusades against street car advertisements, what's the matter with devoting some attention to the enormous billboards," asked the man who likes the landscape. "Here is a chance for a virtuous warfare, and one which will result in much good to the people of cities. Did you ever stop to think of what vast benefits the vacant lot could be? It is of but little benefit now exceupt to the bill poster. The big, high board fence is put around it, and immediately the man with a placard, the man with a bucket of paint and a brush, the circus man with his flaring posters, and the theatrical man with his hikhly colored paper limbs and lingerie—all these and many more are quickly on the scene to add to the grotesqueness of the defacement.

LOCKING FOR COLONY SITE.

Montercy, Mexico, July 28.—The Valhalla Colonization and Improvement company, composed principally of California capitalists, is looking for a colony site in Mexico for 500 Danish families. The company hopes to obtain a sufficiently large tract soon, as 100 families now at Tiliamook, Or., are awaiting its decision. When they have been settled the company will provide transportation for other colonists from Denmark until the full quota of 500 families has come over.

BECAUSE SILVER IS LOW.

Mexico City, July 26.—The government has issued a decree granting to the railroads such an increase in their passenger and freight rates as will practically put them on, the same basis as though their receipts were in 50-cent dollars. The decree was issued in response to a request from the Mexican Central and the Mexican Central and the Mexican Central and the Mexican Central and the solver.

means?"
Only one little hand shot up—it belonged to Tommy Bates.
"Yes, Tommy," said the mentor, "and what does 'furlough' mean?"
"Please, sir," 'said Tommy, bursting with importance, "furlough mean a donkey. I've got a book at home that says so."
"I should like to see that book," said the skeptical teacher; "bring it with you this afternoon."

Follow Them All.

(Philadelphia Record.)

The father of eight children made an exclamation of disgust.

"It's very odd." he said.

Then he took out his penknife and cut certain paragraphs out of the newspaper clippings that lay before him. The clippings all dealt with one subject, the subject of "Reminders and Hints for Bathers," and the man was interested in them because he was about to send his cicht children (the oldest 18 and the youngest 9) to the seashore.

His penknife clippings made a number of little white heaps. He read the contents of these heaps, frowning. "It's very odd." he repeated.

Here are a few of the "hints for bathers" that the man had compiled from his various articles:

Chinese Ways.

A California woman has a Chinese servant who had pleased her in every way until she happened to go into the kitchen rather late one evening and found Ah Wifig calmiy seated with his feet in the dishpan.

"Why. Wing! what are you doing?" she screamed.

"Washee feet." placidly replied the Celestial.

"But in my disphan?"

"My feet clean." responded the Chinaman, indignantly; "washee evely night."

Another rig will shortly be erected on the blord per certification on the holdings of the Bettys Oil and Development Co. just east of Evanston.

Latkinson has received an order for the east very much elated, and satisfied that the Ulintah oil field is one of the greatest ever discovered.

The Evanston Lumber Co. this week shipped two sets of rig timbers to the vell No. 1 of the Bettys Co., but owing to several hundred feet of water in the hole it is impossible to state just what the find will amount to.

Messrs. T. W. Stranahan, president, and Dr. J. W. Riecke, general manager of the Michigan-Wyoming Oil Co., arrived here Sunday noon from Grand Rapids, Mich., and on Tuesday held.
